

Capital Health Network Community Advisory Council

Role	To provide advice and feedback to the Capital Health Network (CHN) Board and management, for consideration, in relation to CHN key projects, commissioning initiatives, and strategic objectives. Advice should support consumer-centred, value-based, and locally relevant care.
Accountability	The Community Advisory Council is an advisory committee to the CHN Board established in accordance with the Constitution. The Council has no authority to make decisions on behalf of the Board except as set out in these Terms of Reference or otherwise delegated by the Board.
	CHN will operate in accordance with Standard 2 (Partnering with Consumers) of the National Safety and Quality Health Service Standards.
Functions	The functions of the Community Advisory Council are to provide recommendations/advice to the Board and/or the CEO on:
	 priority health needs of the local community and the identification of service gaps particularly for those experiencing chronic and complex conditions and those that are at risk of poor health outcomes;
	 ensuring that strategies and initiatives developed by the CHN are consumer-focused, based on consumer feedback and preferences and relevant to the local community;
	 promoting cross-sector collaboration on community and consumer engagement to inform whole-system improvement at a local and regiona level; processes, progress and performance to ensure that CHN activities are customer-focused and achieve best value;
	 evaluation activities and outcomes achieved.
Membership	A minimum of 8 and up to 15 members will be appointed by the CHN Board.
	The Community Advisory Council's membership will be made up of opinion leaders in the community and consumer advocates representing networks that can assist CHN to fulfil its role. A member of the Executive is assigned to the Committee called Executive Liaison.
	Representation will be sought from a range of consumer and community organisations and peak bodies that align with CHN's strategic priorities.
	Community Advisory Council to reflect proportionate membership of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander community members as the Board recognises, values and respects the views of First Nations people.
	All members will represent the broader community interests in local health services and not their specific organisation, area of interest or expertise. As an active participant of the Council it is expected that members will canvas
